“Tyrown is a multi - disciplinary artist and designer who enjoys expressing his cultural heritage in his unique and colourful designs”

Quattro Groove™

As part of Acoustic Panels Australia’s continued collaboration with First Nations artists, our Red Earth Echoes range features unique designs from the visionary Indigenous artist Tyrown Waigana. Red Earth Echoes is an exciting fusion of art and acoustic treatment, inspired by the heart of the land. Tyrown’s striking images are brought to life in our Quattro Groove™ acoustic panel range, inviting both beauty and harmony into your space.

Quattro Groove showcases the essence of Tyrown’s artwork on our grooved polyester panelling, creating a unique and eye-catching interior feature.

Large glass windows on the right side offer a view of a multi-story office building with a curved glass facade. The interior of the building visible through the glass has desks, chairs, and plants.
